

Garden Security

Hedge your bets

Stow the mower & the tools

Do you really need an 8 foot high hedge in front of your home?

Have you left anything in your garden that a burglar could use to break in?

Is the shed really secure?

Garden Security - Key Facts:

- Any hedges to the front of your home should not provide cover for a burglar to 'work' behind
- Garden tools should be locked away when you're not using them
- Any rubble or household goods from refurbishment should be disposed of and not left in the garden
- Hostile planting could put someone off from climbing over your fence – prickly plants in your garden borders may provide a natural deterrent
- Make sure sheds, outbuildings and garages are as secure as possible
- Consider setting up a Neighbourhood Watch Scheme on your street
