

Guide to Property LOST in a Public Place

We do not issue a lost property reference number, however you may wish to report your loss on www.reportmyloss.com which will allocate an individual reference number for your records. The site can be searched by all UK Police Forces.

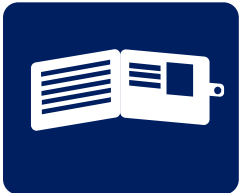

Hazardous items such as firearms, shotguns, ammunition, explosives, poisons, toxins or chemicals.

Report to West Yorkshire Police IMMEDIATELY

Mobile phones, MP3 players, computers or any equipment with a serial number (including bicycles).

You can report the loss via www.immobilise.com. For pedal cycles, please visit www.bikeregister.com. Reports are searchable by Police forces nationwide and insurance companies to help restore property or process a claim.

Identifiable items (e.g. with owner's name and address or other contact details in or on the item).

You do not need to report the loss. If the item is handed in we will make efforts to contact you.

Items which do not have a serial number but have a high monetary value (over £500) or sentimental value (e.g. heirlooms).

Please check the Found Property Database or speak to a member of staff who will see what additional assistance we could offer.

Prescribed medication and drugs.

Contact GP or NHS Direct and seek guidance.

Passports, driving licences and ID cards.

UK passports or driving licence. Report directly to the Passports Office or DVLA.

Foreign passports, ID cards and driving licences. Report directly to your embassy or high commission.

Unidentifiable, low value items.

It is highly unlikely that items such as luggage, empty purses, empty wallets or low-value unidentifiable items such as umbrellas, spectacles, used or soiled clothing and perishable goods will be handed to the Police. Therefore you are advised to make enquiries at the location the item was lost.
