Policy Statement

Summary

In line with the Police and Crime Plan, West Yorkshire Police (WYP) has a responsibility to reduce crime and safeguard the community. Integrated Offender Management (IOM) is applied to reduce the negative impact of crime and reoffending, reduce the number of people who become victims of crime and improve the public's confidence in police and partners and the Criminal Justice System.

IOM is an overarching framework for bringing together agencies in local areas to prioritise interventions with offenders who commit crime in their locality. Local IOM arrangements will work best if they are not restricted to statutory or local criminal justice agencies but involve a wide range of social agencies, including the voluntary sector, who have a role to play in tackling risk factors associated with crime and offending. IOM does not replace or duplicate other statutory or non-statutory offender management processes (e.g. MAPPA, MARAC or Registered Sex Offenders) but will support and assist them where appropriate. This document does not replace the well-established processes of the Youth Offending Service but again looks to provide support and assistance where appropriate.

Integrated Offender Management brings a cross-agency response to the crime and reoffending threats faced by local communities. The most persistent and problematic offenders are identified and managed jointly by partner agencies working together. IOM helps to improve the quality of life in communities.

The aims of this policy are to:

- Reduce the re-offending of those selected for IOM
- Provide corporate guidance to district IOM practitioners
- Explain the roles and responsibilities of police officers and police staff working in IOM
- Provide guidance on offender selection and deselection using risk based assessments

It is appreciated that offender management is an ever-changing landscape with new offender cohorts being identified for management. Only through a multi-agency approach with all partners playing their part, in custody and the community, will the aims of, IOM be achieved.

The West Yorkshire PCC and Local Criminal Justice Board Reducing Re-Offending Strategy is, currently being developed and it is anticipated that this guidance will support the aim of that strategy.

Scope This policy applies to all IOM police officers and police staff who have direct and indirect contact in managing offenders.

Although some IOM staff manage Registered Sex Offenders and other statutory requirement offenders, this policy does not replace guidance covering these areas and will focus on the Risk of Re-Offending and Risk of Harm cohorts. IOM will not duplicate the MAPPA process or the work done by the Youth Offending Service.

Principles

- General
- West Yorkshire Police follow the principles of IOM as set out by the Home Office and Ministry of Justice in the document Integrated Offender Management – Key Principles.
 - It is recognised that these principles are not law but police officers and staff are expected to have regard to the document in discharging their responsibilities. Officers and staff may deviate from the guidance but must provide a clear rationale for doing so.
 - The principles and main features of Integrated Offender Management will guide local arrangements and approaches. Although bespoke elements may be applied, the general principles must, be adhered to.
 - The force will:
 - Manage offenders selected based on the threat, harm and risk posed to the community;
 - Work with partner agencies and the voluntary sector to provide the most effective intervention to reduce offending;
 - Ensure a local response considering local priorities;
 - Ensure all offenders are within the scope of consideration for IOM;
 - Encourage offenders to take responsibility for their actions and provide support towards desistance and rehabilitation;
 - Ensure offenders understand the consequences of failing to engage with the IOM process;
 - Ensure existing governance and programmes are used effectively to address offender needs; and
 - Tackle travelling criminals through effective cross-border liaison.

- Force Structure
- The West Yorkshire Police IOM programme is, made up of six hubs. Five IOM Hubs are based within districts (Bradford, Calderdale, Kirklees, Leeds and Wakefield) and the sixth Hub (the Prison Hub) has staff located within four prisons (Armley, New Hall, Wealston and Wetherby) situated in the West Yorkshire area.
 - District SLT's are responsible for the allocation of personnel, estates and fleet to IOM hubs to effectively manage offenders and reduce offending.

Governance

- The West Yorkshire Reducing Re-offending Board is chaired by the OPCC and responsible for setting the overall strategy to reduce re-offending in West Yorkshire.
 - Community Safety Partnerships are a network of local partners with responsibility to tackle crime and reduce re-offending.
 - The Operational IOM Board is chaired by the force IOM central SPOC and tactically applies the strategic direction to best effect, shares effective practices/lessons learnt and delivers against local offending priorities.
 - Local District IOM meetings are as per district governance structures.

IOM Model

IOM Model

- WYP have adopted a three-cohort model of IOM to manage offenders. These are:
 - Cohort 1 – Risk of Reoffending – Serious acquisitive crime and volume crime
 - Cohort 2 – Risk of Harm – Domestic Abuse, CSE, Organised Crime Groups (OCGs) and Firearms
 - Cohort 3 – Statutory Responsibilities – RSO and MAPPA
 - It is a decision for the IOM supervision in conjunction with partners to decide the most appropriate cohort and category for an offender to be, allocated to. (E.g., an OCG member may be managed as, a result of their acquisitive crime offending rather than due to being an OCG member; as such they would be allocated to the Risk of Re-offending cohort).
 - Where districts have established teams to manage certain categories of offender (e.g. CSE perpetrators) the IOM staff must provide support as required.

Data Management

Principles

- West Yorkshire Police will work collaboratively with partners and other stakeholders to manage offenders effectively. In support of this, the IOM Hubs must share appropriate information whilst complying with the Data Protection Act, GDPR and MOPI through appropriate Information Sharing Agreements and Data Processing Contracts.
- The sharing of information must be:
 - Lawful
 - Necessary
 - Proportionate
 - Secure
 - Accountable
- All staff must be responsible to ensure the security of data.

- The 'Guidance on MOPI' document is available providing the full requirements for information sharing and retention. If further assistance/advice on the sharing of information is required, staff should contact the Data Management Team.

Partnership Meetings

Principles

- Although the numerical score provided by the Corvus system assists to identify individuals for management, these scores are only to be, used as a guide and should, not be, taken in isolation as, the sole reason for an individual's management, via IOM.
 - In line with current structures, districts must hold IOM meetings, which are, attended by relevant local partner agencies to, enable discussions around the below agenda areas with the appropriate allocations of tasks/pathways:
 - Nomination for IOM management;
 - Discussion of those offenders being managed and any relevant changes in circumstance;
 - Deregistration from IOM management;
 - Prison releases; and
 - Effective practices/innovation.
 - Within the meeting, the approved agenda format is to be utilised, although additional agenda items can be, incorporated by the individual district where a local requirement is identified.
 - Confidentiality forms must be, circulated and partners must be, made fully aware of their Data Protection responsibilities. The disclosure statement must be, read at the start of each meeting. All information sharing must be, covered by the appropriate Information Sharing Agreement and Data Processing Contract.

Children and Young People

Principles

- Juvenile offenders are, supported by the Youth Offending Services (YOS). District IOM teams must liaise with and support YOS particularly during the transition of an offender from YOS to IOM, which is a particularly difficult period for the subject.
 - All efforts should be, made to ensure a smooth transition considering the welfare and needs of the offender and, where appropriate, involve the offender's family / guardian.
 - The decision to accept an offender who has reached adult age must be through partnership agreement at the Selection / De-selection meetings.

Management of Cohort

Principles

- It is accepted that each of the five districts differ in geography, staffing and priorities. Due to these factors, the day-to-day management of those accepted onto the cohorts must, be agreed at a district level and remain the responsibility of the district IOM Inspectors and stakeholders.
 - However, IOM staff and partners are, expected to be cognisant of the following principles:
 - Offender selection must be based on the threat, harm and risk posed to the community;
 - All offenders are within scope and consideration for selection;
 - Innovative and creative approaches shall be taken to minimise the risk of re-offending;
 - Tasks will be the responsibility of the most appropriate stakeholder;
 - Task ownership will be recorded with appropriate timescales for completion; and
 - Task owners are responsible for providing updates on progress and recording results.

Imprisoned Offenders

Principles

- Once a managed individual receives a custodial sentence, they become the responsibility of the Prison Hub. The originating district must contact the Prison Hub supervision to discuss the handover of the individual. It is the responsibility of the Prison Hub to populate the appropriate tab on IOM case and continue the individual's management.
 - Three months prior to release the Prison Hub must contact the relevant district to discuss the release of an offender and their management on release. It is advised that a member of the district IOM team attends the relevant prison to conduct a joint visit with the Prison Hub staff to allow for a smooth transition of management and to allow for introductions to the individual to be managed.
 - Any individual who is, imprisoned out of the West Yorkshire area remains the responsibility of the district IOM staff who must conduct prisons visits as required.

Buddi Tags – GPS Monitoring

Principles

- WYP utilises voluntary GPS tagging to assist in the management of offenders. This tactic provides offenders the opportunity to wear a tag allowing the police the capability to monitor their movements, which reduces the need for disruption activities.

- The scheme is, used to:
 - Reduce re-offending;
 - Gather intelligence;
 - Protect victims;
 - Protect the public;
 - Provide a protective, supportive and/or safeguarding factor to the wearer;
 - Free up police resources for reinvestment elsewhere;
 - Identify suspects for reported crimes; and
 - Eliminate suspects for reported crimes.
- Districts are, allocated a number of tags based on demand. In order to ensure value for money IOM staff must flex tagging devices between districts and ensure their use is effective and efficient.
- Districts have the flexibility to use tagging devices on all types of offender and not be limited to specific offending types.
- Buddi may be used in suitable applications for both adult and youth cohorts (aged 12 or above only), but in the case of youths, they must agree and have consent from a parent or guardian, who must also be present for tag fitting.
- In all cases, the offender must volunteer for the scheme and the relevant consent paperwork be completed and stored as per the force policy ensuring compliance with the DPA, GDPR and MOPI.

Corvus – IOM Case

Principles

- To assist in the management of offenders, West Yorkshire Police utilises a computer system named Corvus IOM Case provided by Bluestar. The system draws data from other sources including Storm and Niche, analysing intelligence, crimes, arrests and substance misuse in order to derive a score, which provides an indication of an individual’s likelihood to re-offend.
- Different scoring mechanisms are, applied to different crime types, (e.g. an acquisitive crime offender is, scored on different criteria to a Domestic Abuse perpetrator).
- The Risk of Re-Offending Cohort scores provide a High, Medium and Low grading as per the below:

Risk of Re-Offending Grade (ROR)	Associated Score
Not brought onto IOM Case	Offender Score < 350
Low	350 ≤ Offender Score < 500
Medium	500 ≤ Offender Score < 1000
High	1000 ≤ Offender Score

- West Yorkshire Police aims to manage offenders based on the risk and harm posed to communities. The scores attributed to offenders are, intended to assist the selection process supplementing the intelligence and information provided by all partners. IOM hubs and partners have the discretion to select offenders with lower scores if they are, considered appropriate for management due to the risk and harm they pose to communities.
 - The custom scores applied to Domestic Abuse, CSE and Firearms perpetrators are not categorised but provide a prioritised list of offenders with those having the greatest score indicating the greatest risk of harm.
 - The scores provided by IOM Case are not intended to replace decision making but rather support the decision making process to effectively select offenders for management. The selection process considers partner intelligence and information, and their re-offending measures, e.g. OGRS, OASys scores.

Offender Selection/Deselection

Principles

- IOM staff must engage with partners attending Offender Selection/Deselection Boards, which must, be held on a regular basis in line with districts structures. Police and partners must identify and focus on the offenders that pose the greatest threat, harm and risk to the safety of communities. Such offenders must, be selected for management and placed on the appropriate cohort:
 - Risk of Re-Offending – Serious acquisitive crime and volume crime
 - Risk of Harm – Domestic Abuse, CSE, Organised Crime Groups, Firearms (RSO's as directed by supervision with appropriately trained staff)
 - It is recognised that some offenders will fall into more than one category however; managed offenders must be allocated to one cohort category only in IOM Case. The choice of category is at the discretion of the IOM supervision (supported by partner discussion) who must rationale that decision. The selection and deselection of offenders must be, done jointly with partners considering the principles of IOM, the National Decision Model and West Yorkshire Police Code of Ethics.
 - When considering offender selection, police and partners must be cognisant of offending history, offender pathways and their risk of re-offending.
 - IOM staff must monitor the Emerging Threat category on IOM Case to review the need to engage with offenders identified through this criterion. This must be, done on a regular basis and on no fewer than two occasions during a seven-day period to allow for rest days.

Selection Considerations

- In selecting an offender to be subject to IOM intervention, the following must be considered:

- Current and previous offending;
 - Recency, frequency and gravity of offending;
 - All available police intelligence/information and scoring;
 - All available partner intelligence/information and scoring;
 - Known offender pathways/triggers to offending;
 - Ability of IOM to, positively intervene; and
 - Partnership involvement already in place.

Deselection Considerations

- In deselecting an offender from IOM, the following must be considered:
 - Reduction in offending;
 - All intelligence information available from police and partners;
 - Engagement of offender with IOM staff and partners;
 - Whether offender needs/pathways have been positively addressed;
 - Triggers to offending reduced;
 - Ongoing support appropriate to partner agency;
 - Transfer/movement to a different police area; and
 - Offender receives a significant prison sentence.

- In circumstances where the:
 - Offender refuses to engage with police and partners;
 - Offender fails to accept responsibility for their own actions;
 - Offender continues to re-offend; and/or
 - IOM intervention is having no positive impact on the offending behaviour.

the offender must be discussed at the Partnership Selection / Deselection Board and if agreed, be subject to, a proactive catch and control strategy supported by effective disruption by the appropriate police resources. The option for the offender to engage with the IOM process should always be available.

Action upon Selection

- This is not an exhaustive list and further actions may be appropriate based on the bespoke needs of the district.
 - Add offender to appropriate cohort on IOM Case;
 - Supervision to allocate a manager to offenders in the community and in prison where appropriate (the appropriate manager may be a partner agency);
 - Add flag on Niche / PNC indicating the offender is under IOM;
